

SMALL ROADS TOLD TO SHIFT FOR BUSINESS

McAdoo Refuses to Add
Short Lines to Federal System.

Shortline railroads are complaining to Congress because, they say, the Railroad Administration is ignoring the intent of the railroad act in refusing to place many of them under Federal protection.

A convention of the shortline interests is negotiating with the aid of Director McAdoo. So far they have received no encouragement, and the protests to Congress have resulted. Members of both Houses of Congress have been surprised to learn that they did not, as they had understood, legislate in such a manner as to force the railroad administration to take the little roads along with the big ones. One section of the bill provides that all lines must be made a part of the Federal system. But another one, not much noticed, permits the Director General to turn back any line to its owners before July 1.

According to the shortline managers, practically all the small roads are thus being told to shift for themselves. A still more serious situation results from the fact that the roads induced Congress to reject the proposal of Director General McAdoo to give them as fair traffic arrangements as he could, without taking them over. They are now without the protection of either of the opposing suggestions made for their relief.

Chairman Simms, of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, said last night he did not think the bill would be passed. He said he intended to back the policy of the administration.

T. V. T. MOTORS CO. SUED FOR $1,000

Mrs. May S. Austin Asks Damages
As Result of Collision.

Mrs. Mary S. Austin yesterday filed suit in the District Court against the T. V. T. Motors Corporation, of New York City, demanding $1,000 damages on account of injuries alleged to have been sustained in a collision last fall on the military road between Washington and Fort Myer.

The complaint sets up that the defendants are operating an auto bus between the points named, and that November 25, 1917, they ran into her machine, causing damages to the extent indicated. Scott P. Kittredge appears as attorney for Mrs. Austin, who is a resident of Washington.

SUFFS ASK PROBE OF PICKETS' TREATMENT

The Massachusetts branch of the National Woman's party filed a demand in the Senate yesterday for an investigation of the treatment accorded suffrage pickets who were arrested and imprisoned for picketing the White House. Resolutions adopted by the organization at a convention held in Kingsley Hall, Boston, were read into the Record by Senator Lodge.

The resolutions recite that citizens of Massachusetts suffered a great wrong at the hands of the authorities of Washington, and ask that the circumstances of their unlawful arrest and unlawful imprisonment be investigated.

D. A. R. Annual Reception Brilliant Society Affair

Palatial Halls of Pan-American Union, Beautifully Decorated, Were Scene of Festivities—Dancing Added to Enjoyment.

A reception marked for its brilliance and the variegated personnel of its guests, of whom there were over 2,000, held in the Pan-American Union, brought to a close last night the second day of the Continental Congress of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. Given by the president general of the congress, Mrs. George Thacher Guernsey, this event has always been one of the yearly features of the meetings. The reception last night was the first in the history of the organization to be held outside their own hall, yet this was only one of the precedents broken. For never before has such a cosmopolitan and international gathering attended these functions as were in evidence last evening.

Official Families Represented.
Besides many of the elite of Washington, both inside and out of the city, A. R. members of attaches of the United States, and members of the color and significance to the occasion never before witnessed at these receptions.

Out of compliment to the daughters of the Pan-American Union, Hon. John Barrett, director of the congress, loaned the building to the congress for the reception. Owing to the lateness in adjourning of different chapter meetings in Continental Hall last night prior to the reception, the latter was a little late in getting under way. Meanwhile streams of automobiles unloaded the guests at the door of the Union, whose doors opened about 9:30 o'clock.

Assisting Mrs. Guernsey in the reception were Mrs. J. A. R. member, wife of the French Ambassador, all of the wives of Cabinet members excepting Mrs. Lansing and Mrs. Redfield; Mrs. George Barnett, wife of the major general commandant of the Marine Corps, and Mrs. Benson, wife of Rear Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations, U. S. N. The foregoing received their guests at the entrance to the grand ball room situated on the second floor of the Union.

Decorated With Flags.
Both floors of the palatial hall were profusely decorated with palms and exotic plants and the flags of America and her allies. Dancing attracted the larger number of the guests, many of them having to wait sometime for their turn before they could even reach the floor. This continued until almost midnight.

Out of town members of the Congress took advantage of the ample opportunity offered them to saunter at their leisure through the many rooms of the Union acquainting themselves with the vast amount of interests that it houses. Mr. Barrett, its director, was in constant demand at his office there, and personally met a large number of the delegates. The committee having charge of last night's reception included Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, chairman; Mrs. John Francis Sawyer and Mrs. Robert G. Hogan, vice chairman and thirty members of the society.

Afternoon Session.
When the congress convened for its afternoon session at 2 o'clock yesterday, it heard from the publicity director of its War Relief Committee, Mrs. William H. Wait, perhaps the most illuminating and extensive report bearing in detail upon the war activities of the daughters that was offered at the congress.

As read by Mrs. Wait, the report, which was a compilation of individual reports received from the various state regents showing their work for the year, disclosed a variety of service to the government and allied powers that was astonishing. Having a hand in the good work was the Havana chapter in Cuba, which was included in the States' report.

After calling attention to the numerous bulletins issued by her committee, of patriotic and informative character, and countless circulars and letters containing wartime suggestions, the report settled down to giving in detail the vast accomplishments of the organization towards prosecuting the war.

For Boys "Over There."

"For our forces abroad," the report showed that the D. A. R. had expended in the year just closed, $1,414,393. This great amount of money was used for supplying our Sammys with everything from ambulances, barrack bags and blankets, to jellies and mending kits. Donations to the Red Cross, U. S. C. A. and U. S. C. A. are included in the above amount.

"For France" the organization gave during the past year $39,565.25 for the adoption of French orphans; $14,735.02 for the restoration of the French village of Tilloy; $46 for the children of Southern France, and $4,352 for cafeterias for French women and girls working ammunition plants. These benefactions, together with $1,251.17, which was given for other relief in that country, brings the grand total for France up to $50,821.44. Gifts to the other allies—Armenia, Belgium, England, Flanders, Italy, Poland, Scotland, Serbia and Syria—amounted to $3,443.55.

The Liberty Loans.

For the First and Second Liberty Loans, the report stated that the amount subscribed by members was $7,300,000. So far, $11,963.20 has been subscribed for the Third Liberty Loan. Many miscellaneous gifts for the soldiers and sailors, such as candy, tobacco, smileage books, etc., were referred to in the report.

Not included in the above amounts, the report went on, was $24,672.46 raised by one Daughter in New York for a war chest; $2,000 raised by one chapter in New York for Great Britain's war loan; and $1,400 raised by one Daughter in Maryland for the Relief Society. Also not included in the financial report given above was a long list of miscellaneous gifts, valued at many thousands of dollars, from ambulances, of which there were twenty, to wrist watches.

For Service Flag.

Incorporated in the report of Mrs. Wait was a resolution asking the congress to create a service flag in honor of the American women in foreign fields engaged in active war service. Many D. A. R. members, the resolution pointed out, were serving Uncle Sam abroad. Twenty-eight States in all are represented in the list of countries. Besides the District of Columbia and the Orient.

Other reports to occupy the afternoon session were those of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, chairman of the War Relief Committee, who touched upon every phase of the work being done under her direction; and Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins, who reported in detail D. A. R. activities among French orphans.

Appended to Mrs. Scott's report was a set of patriotic resolutions pledging fidelity to the country's cause and condemning Teuton propaganda in this country. This was unanimously passed by the congress. Visiting D. A. R. delegates have been invited to attend a reception in honor of Mrs. Georgiana Hodge Bailey, a national registrar of Kentucky, to be tendered by the District of Columbia Society of Colonial Daughters, at the Fortner Apartment, Fifteenth and U street, from 5 to 7 o'clock, Friday evening.

Noon Meeting For Bonds.

Yesterday's noon meeting at the Liberty loan booth at Lafayette Square, was in charge of the State regents of Delaware and Illinois. Those who spoke there were Mrs. Hall, State regent of Delaware, and Mrs. Edmund Moody, vice president general of the same State. The Illinois speakers to take part were Mrs. H. R. Howell, State regent-elect for Illinois and vice president general, and Mrs. S. E. Fowler, besides the above, many other Arkansas people living in the Capital, were included in the audience.

By special invitation, the Arkansas delegation was given a private audience by President Wilson yesterday afternoon in the east room of the White House. Mrs. S. P. Davis, State regent for Arkansas, in presenting her colleagues to the President, pledged him the loyalty of every woman in her native State. Accompanying Mrs. Davis to the White House were Mrs. Frank Tomlinson, Mrs. Kirk Tunnah, Mrs. A. W. Pappas and Mrs. S. E. Fowler. Besides the above, many other Arkansas people living in the Capital, were included in the audience.

MINE WORKERS SEEK HELP FROM GARFIELD

President of Organization Declares
Situation Needs Drastic Action.

Frank J. Hayes, president of the United Mine Workers of America, came to Washington yesterday for a conference with Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel, administrator, over the serious labor situation in the bituminous fields.

Mr. Hayes contends that thousands of mine workers are out of work, and the situation is growing worse, because mine production has fallen off at the very time when it should be increasing. Dr. Garfield will take up the situation today.

The Central West Virginia Operators' Association added their protest over conditions in the Fairmont-Clarksburg district, saying: "Coal fields of Fairmont-Clarksburg region so very poor that miners are leaving by the wholesale rather than face starvation with but a day's work per week. Advances from various sources indicate that large number of additional miners will leave region today, after pay day; some mines will lose their entire force. This will have a disastrous effect on production, unless matter is taken in hand at once and our supply is immediately increased."

HOUSE WILL AMEND INSURANCE MEASURE

Arrangements were made by the House last night to pass amendment to cutting down delays in making awards, shutting out claim attorneys from acting in any way, and extending the six-months limit within which soldiers are now compelled to take out policies.

NEW DIVISION OF ENGINEERS FOR DRAFTEES

Latest Called to Colors Can Join Crack Unit on Construction Work.

Men called in the next draft will be given an opportunity to join a new division of the Engineer Corps to be known as the Pioneer Infantry. This branch will be the first of the new branches in the army created by the needs of modern warfare. The Pioneer infantrymen will not only be trained as engineers skilled in building roads, bridges and trenches, but they will be given special training in open warfare.

The men chosen for this service will wear a special insignia of two crossed guns with a superimposed letter P. It is planned to make the Pioneer one of the crack divisions of the army. These men will be trained for service such as was rendered by the American Engineers at the battle of Cambrai. Each company of 80 men will have nineteen Browning machine guns. They will be equipped with rifles as well as the tools for the work to which they are assigned, and because of the heavy equipment which must be carried will number in their ranks men of only the highest physical qualifications.

The War Department has given no indication of the number of regiments which will be formed, but it is known that there will be a large number. We'll substitute corn for wheat and victory for defeat—D. C. Food Administrator.

Cowboys Building Ships; Ride Up in Swirl of Dust And Are Put to Work

Cowboys are building wooden ships. Instead of punching cows they are punching rivet holes; sage brush riders who once drove the Texas Longhorns now drive pneumatic drills in the shipyards of the Southwest.

A gang of them has just helped put the finishing touches on the War Marvel, the 4,700 ton wooden ship that left the ways at Orange, Texas, the other day. This is how it happened—A cascade of genuine cowboys rode up to the gates of the National Shipbuilding Company's yards and halted in a great swirl of dust. Out of the swirl strode Luke Haley, herd boss, who said he had heard America boys were to build ships and were there to build them. They tied their ponies to the fence and were put to work.

Thirty Red Cross Canteens Set Up Behind U. S. Front

Thirty Red Cross canteens have been established behind the American front in France. A network of them within three miles in the rear of the front-line trenches are serving the wants of the fighting men both day and night.

This information was made public at Red Cross headquarters yesterday upon the receipt of the March report from its department of military affairs in France. Besides supplying the soldier with hot drinks and refreshments, canteen workers also distribute pencils, paper and envelopes, safety pins, playing cards, bandages, iodine, ointments for the wounded, sewing kits and many other such articles. The German drive created a new refugee problem last month in France and shortly after the German offensive began a Red Cross field kitchen was sent to the front where it fed more than 75,000 civilians and soldiers. Two new hospitals in France for American men were opened last month.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN DRAFTED.

Los Angeles, April 15.—Charlie Chaplin, motion picture comedian, has been drafted, and expects his call, it was announced at his studio yesterday. Although he is an Englishman, Chaplin has waived rights and expects to wear Uncle Sam's khaki in a short time.
